The Arizona Association of School Psychologists, in cooperation with the Southern Arizona Psychological Association (SAPA) and the Student Affiliates in School Psychology at the University of Arizona, is sponsoring a workshop on

The Roles of Teachers in Students' Social-Emotional Adjustment

Friday, December 11, 23015

By

Jina Yoon, Ph.D.

Program Director, University of Arizona School Psychology Program

1:30-3:30

Arizona School for the Deaf and Blind

Berger Performing Arts Center

1200 W. Speedway Blvd. Tucson, AZ 85745

Description: The presentation will highlight the teachers' role as a socializing agent in the classroom and school, with a particular emphasis on their influence on students' social and emotional outcomes. Following an overview of theoretical perspectives and current literature, effective strategies to support teachers and other school personnel will be presented. The participants will have an opportunity to explore ways to promote positive teacher-student relationships and safe classrooms and to identify specific action plans that are based on the needs of classrooms/schools they currently serve.

Workshop Objectives:

1. Identify the key processes of teacher influences in students' social emotional adjustment,
2. Develop effective strategies to support teachers and other school personnel,
3. Recognize potential challenges in supporting them, and
4. Utilize preventive approaches in school psychology practice

Presenter information: Dr. Jina Yoon is currently the Program Director and professor for the School Psychology Program at the University of Arizona and recently hails from Wayne State University, Michigan. Dr. Yoon completed her Bachelor of Arts degree in Secondary Education in South Korea and her Masters in Education in Early Childhood Special Education at the University of Texas at Austin before completing her M.A. & Ph.D. (1998) in School Psychology at Texas A&M University. She is a Nationally Certified School Psychologist and a licensed psychologist in Michigan. She is also an Associate Editor for the Journal of School Psychology.

Cost: $10 AASP/SAPA members; $15 non-members; Free to students and their supervisors.
